Dear Admissions committee,

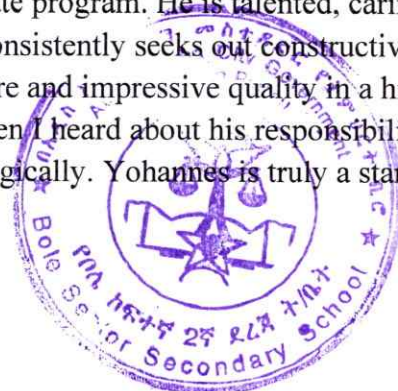

I had the pleasure of teaching Yohannes in his 11th grade English class at Bole Preparatory School. From the first day of class, Yohannes impressed me with his articulation of difficult concepts and topics, his sensitivity to doing different activities in various tasks within the literature, and his passion for reading, writing, and creative expression both in and out of the classroom. Yohannes is a talented critic and skillful, and he has my highest recommendation as a student with a highly gifted all-around personality.

Yohannes is talented at considering the concept of every topic including literature and the purpose behind works. He performed an extraordinary year-long performance on creative speech, written project development, and grammar lessons. His use of vocabulary to express literary texts has never ceased to amaze me. When called upon to give his presentation in front of his peers, Yohannes speaks clearly and in detail about any lesson in an attractive manner and responded to questions in clubs at school.

When we held a class discussion on different topics, Yohannes speaks further issues from a new perspective, and gain a clearer sense of the issue from different angles. Regarding class conduct, he is decent and gives value for a fraction of seconds, so he was never absent including optional tutorial classes. He is a self-reliant person that most of the students in the school consider him a role model. That is why he serves the student government as a president.

Throughout the year, Yohannes demonstrated this openness to and empathy for the opinions, feelings, and perspectives of his classmates, along with wonderful results in all subjects. All qualities that make him outstanding as a student of strong potential young responsible self-directed person. The remarkable results he receives not only in English but in all the subjects he takes are testimony of his capability. He is indeed an outstanding and gifted student.

I am certain that he is going to continue to do great and create things in his future. I highly recommend him for admission to your undergraduate program. He is talented, caring, intuitive, dedicated, and focused in his pursuits. Yohannes consistently seeks out constructive feedback. So he can improve his multiple skills, which is a rare and impressive quality in a high school student at this level. I was extremely fascinated when I heard about his responsibility to his siblings to help his parents physically and psychologically. Yohannes is truly a stand-out individual who impresses everyone he meets. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions regarding this recommendation.

Sincerely,

Mr. Henok Tesfaye W/kidan,

English Teacher,
