REF.NO STEM/10/2015

To whom it may concern,

I am pleased and honored to recommend Amdebirhan Abebe who is our nation's precious asset and the best ever student in my entire academic career. Amdebirhan is truly over the top of anyone I ever encountered. He is the best thing that happened in my long accademic carrer.

Without any hesitation, as the principal of this school, I can say Amdebirhan makes our school a better place, both for his friends and for his teacher. Amdebirhan is both a student and a teacher with an extraordinary leadership and teaching spirit. For his friends, he is an extremely loveable, kind, and humorous student who wants to help his friends with everything he can and creates an environment where they can learn and grow together. He is a very kind soul who loves everyone without boundaries, helps, and shows a path for his peers. For his teachers, Amdebirhan is the most loved as well as the most respected student in our school. Every teacher adored him, not only because he was always first in his class but also because of his exceptional and one-of-a-kind personality. He is always willing to assist his peers with their educations, which makes the teacher's job easier. Amdebirhan is an excellent student with a natural desire to learn and achieve excellence. He served his school as a student body president, and I had a chance to spend time with him. I've noticed that he can do anything in a professional manner. I am amazed by his leadership and presentation skills. I always watched him carefully when he presented a monthly report and noticed his maturity and behavior. I adopted a lot of things from him. starting from his entrepreneurial spirit to his kind and helpful behavior.

Amdebirhan is a student who takes full advantage of what our school and our nation offer. He stretched himself, and he is always trying to use his maximum potential. Amdebirhan thinks in a very different and unique way. He once came into my office with a proposal to borrow one of our school's classrooms so that he could give free classes to his peers. I agreed as soon as I read his proposal. Now his school is a well-known computer school in town, and he is able to make a meaningful impact. This action of his will always stay in my mind. I will not forget this young man forever. I was so impressed with his vision for the school and his desire to help others gain access to computer education .

He is a self-starter who has engaged in a lot of projects and research. He did his research at Bahir Dar University, which was published and presented at Bahir Dar University. Most surprisingly, he also did a research project with a government company and now the company is using his research. Amdebirhan changed our school, and he will definitely change our world. I am very sure he will start the next big global company or discover the next revolutionary scientific theory.

Academically, Amdebirhan is truly over the top. He is very passionate, and he loves learning for the sake of it. He always wants to learn the hardest things with so much pressure. His natural disposition was toward education because he was never tired of learning and discovering. He values his academic journey more than his academic accomplishments. He won the National Science Fair two times, which is amazing, and several STEM competitions. He found a lot of clubs and contributed a lot to our school including Model United Nation which is the most active club in our school. He also finds nation-wide organizations. When our country was in a civil war, he organized thousands of students using his connections and was able to build a great Red Cross Task Force. He was able to raise a lot of clothes, medicine, and other important things for civil war victims. He awarded the 2022 National Hero Award, which is one of Ethiopia's most prestigious awards and is only given to a few deserving individuals. He did enough for his country at such a young age.

Amdebirhan displayed enormous courage in the face of seemingly insurmountable obstacles in life. He demonstrates an ability to lead or inspire those around him. He truly shows extraordinary concern and compassion for his friends. This is what makes him special and memorable. His personality distinguished him from a lot of other gifted students like him. He loves the people around him to his usual degree. He is always supportive and encouraging to those in need, and his kind words can turn even the bleakest of days into ones full of hope. His immense empathy and concern for those around him often drives him to go the extra mile, even if it means sacrificing his own comfort. He made the people around him feel truly appreciated and loved. He was not just the most brilliant student in his class but also the most empathetic one. Despite his many academic achievements, he always found time to show his true caring nature and nurture his relationships with friends and family.

If you grant admission to Amdebirhan, please be sure that your institution has admitted a student who can be a very good friend for his peers, a very inspiring student for his teachers, additional researchers for your labs, the next notable alumni, and one of the greatest minds in the history of the world. Amdebirhan can offer your institution a unique blend of academic excellence, extracurricular achievements, and leadership potential. I have nothing but high respect for Amdebirhan, and he has my most enthusiastic recommendation!
